

Choose an Emergency Caregiver for your Pet

Even in normal times, you should have someone you can count on to care for your pets if you or other members of your household cannot do so in an emergency.

If your regular emergency plan involves friends or relatives who live far away, because of the Covid-19 Lockdown you need to have a local backup.

You also want to make sure they are prepared; information wise. You should create a “pet file” ahead of time, including notes on food, medical conditions, behavioural tendencies and habits, vaccination records and veterinarian contact information.
